

Contracts Management

Give your contracts a home and ensure they are managed before and after signature. Track the terms and conditions of your agreements so they don't lapse, helping you to avoid unfavorable terms or paying penalties.

From contract negotiation, tracking terms, managing the documents, and planning for future renewals or terminations, LicenseHQ supports and organizes the entire life cycle of your agreements.

- Capture and organize contract data, including the contracts themselves, stakeholder information, terms, dates, and any other data pertinent to terms or renewals
- Track all data changes within a comprehensive audit log
- Centralize all of your contract documents, exhibits, addendums, fee schedules, etc.
- Automated, customizable email alerts ensure that deadlines aren't missed, work can be forecasted and scheduled, and timely renewals take place under the most favorable terms possible
- Powerful search tools allow you access to data quickly and easily
- Transparency to management and external stakeholders is maximized via out-of-the-box and customizable reports
- Secures your data using role-based security

By centralizing vendor contracts, lease agreements, and associated documentation, clients have been able to reduce labor costs related to resolving contract issues and unwanted renewal obligations.
